- ... are strong in grace, leaders that are being led and desire to lead others, always waiting for the next command to obey.
- ... do not respond to reason or the lack of understanding but are willing to submit to the next command with all trust.
- ... see hardship as an advancement of the kingdom and don't engage themselves with worldly lusts, emotions, words, vows, traditions, cultures or fantasies.
- ... are cultivated by an eternal kingdom, knowing the world is pollution to the purity of Christ.
- ... strive for perfection, order, stability, unity, steadfastness and honor to their King, always focusing on pleasing their God and rightly interpreting His Words according to His time and season.
- ... are empowered with grace to advance beyond one's limitations.
- ... are scatterers of evil and gatherers of righteousness.
- ... are kings of their territory and priests to their God.
- ... are loyal, royal, and immovable to the cause of the eternal order.
- ... are a nameless, faceless, and placeless generation.
- ... are dead but yet live.
- ... are sons and daughters of the Most High, children of the light and drinkers of the eternal river.
- ... are seers of things to come and fearless against the darkness.
- ... are history makers, restorers of the breach of love and cloaked with humility.
- ... are chosen yet have chose, protectors of their borders and destroyers of demonic immigration.
- ... are defenders of the weak, invaders for the rescue and teachers of the truth.
- ... are born of the Spirit and called before time.
- ... are ARMED and DANGEROUS.
